

Name: Ar. Adarsh Viswam

Designation: Associate Professor, MCAP, Thiruvananthapuram

Educational Details

B. Arch – 2006

College of Engineering, Trivandrum

M. Plan – 2012

School of Planning & Architecture, New Delhi

About:

After completing graduation from university of Kerala in 2006 started his carrier as an architect in Centre for Science and technology (COSTFORD), Thiruvananthapuram. Later joined Centre for Research and Development (CRDU), CEPT University Ahmedabad. Completed master's degree in Planning from SPA New Delhi in 2012, with specialization in regional planning. He worked as planning consultant in COSTFORD in 2012. Started teaching from 2013. He also held the position of academic coordinator in Laurie Baker Centre for Habitat Studies, Thiruvananthapuram. Joined MCAP in 2018 as associate professor.

Interest:

Cost effective building technologies, Housing, Slum improvement & Heritage conservation

Achievements

Trained in Production and use of compressed stabilized earth block.